PERSONAL MENTION.

Mrs. Metcalf is summering in beautiful Santa Barbara.

Mrs. W. W. Woodman is visiting her daughter in San Bernardino.

Mrs. G. W. Cheyney and children are visiting friends in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. McGrew are in from their ranch, in the Whetstones.

Mrs. B. A. Packard and children are spending the summer at Olean, N. Y.

Mrs. M. H. Sherman is spending the summer with her parents in Ulica, N. Y.

Mr. H. A. Tweed, wife and daughter are enjoying surf-bathing at Santa Monica.

Mrs. Shattuck and her sister, Miss Bootes, are in Northwestern Pennsylvania visiting relatives.

Miss Sarah Herring, after a month at Santa Monica, is visiting her sister, Mrs. C. W. Clum, in El Paso.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Leach are in San Francisco, where the former is being treated for his dislocated arm.

Mrs. J. V. Vickers and family and Mrs. Childs are at the Chiricahua Cattle Company's El Dorado ranch.

Col. Herring and family and Miss Annette Ellis are breathing the pure mountain air of the Swiss Alps.

Dr. G. E. Goodfellow and G. S. Fly, the photographer, are prospecting for volcanoes in the Sierra Madres.

The family of Capt. Taylor are in Oakland. When Mrs. Taylor's health will warrant, they will continue their journey to Canada.

Mrs. Mark Smith is visiting relatives in Dallas, Texas, while her liege lord, the Hon. Mark, is in Washington on public business.

Mr. Ridgely Tilden, editor of the Prospector, whose health of late has not been of the best, is trying a change of air at Fort Huachuca.

Mrs. F. S. Earle and her sister, Miss Miller, who went East by way of the Isthmus, a few weeks since, have just heard from where at Pottsdam, N. Y.

Mrs. S. L. Hart and Mrs. Kirt Hart, who have been visiting friends and relatives in Michigan and Wisconsin, are expected home in two or three weeks.

Mrs. G. E. Ulmer, Howe, Peto and Wolcott and Miss Hart departed this morning for Roberts' ranch, in the Huachuca, where they will rusticate for a few days.

Mrs. L. W. Blinn and her son, Irving, who have been enjoying the sea breezes at Santa Monica, were joined this week by Mr. Blinn. They are expected home next week.

Mrs. Ganzhorn, Miss Lucy Herrick and Miss Minnie and Maggie Hill who, in company with Mr. Lamb, have been trying the healing waters of Hooker's Hot Springs, will be home the coming week.

Mr. F. M. Likes, who returned to Tombstone a few days since after an absence of more than a year, goes to Silver City, N. M. He expects to return in a few weeks with his family. Mr. Likes considers Tombstone good enough for him.

The Masons meet to-night for work in the second degree.

Frank Wolcott is now fairly settled in his new quarters, on Fremont street, near the Postoffice.

The Methodist Sunday school contemplate a picnic at Herrick's ranch in the near future.

Thanks, Jimmy, for the kind words of the Prospector. May your shadow and subscription list never grow less.

Rev. Geo. L. Pearson will hold the usual services at the Methodist church to-morrow, at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Sunday school at 12:15.

When Tombstone rids itself of the cranks, blackmailers and growlers, who have proven its curse since its inception, may we fully enjoy the prosperity which our magnificent mines and country warrant.

Jack Burns, charged with killing a steer belonging to T. F. Hudson, on the west side of the Huachuca more than a year ago, was yesterday held by Justice Shearer in the sum of $500 to await the action of the grand jury.

As an offset to Arizona's Tombstone, Colorado has a town called Monument. No state or territory shows up with a town called Shroud or Coffin or Corpse. Verily, the possibilities of ghastly nomenclature are not exhausted.—[Alta.]

NO PLACE LIKE HOME.

The Sensible Conclusion Arrived at After Two Interviews.

One day this week the recording Secretary of the Can't-getaway Club interviewed two returned sisters, with the following result. The EPITAPH thinks it detects a grain of envy on the part of the Secretary, but gives place to the interview all the same:

"Ah, Mrs. N., so you have returned from your summer outing. Did you enjoy your trip?"

"Oh! splendidly. Had such a good time."

"Ah, yes, you were out at C's ranch were you not? Have they a fine place?"

"Not much of a house—only a 3-room cabin; it does seem nice to get back to my own comfortable place."

"Was it cool out there?"

"Oh, yes, lovely; warm in town?"

"Yes, warm most of the time; it is so to-day."

"To-day! why I think this is a lovely day; it was a great deal warmer out in the mountains."

"Indeed! then we here certainly had the better of you. Did you enjoy the rambles over the ranch?"

"Mercy, no; I didn't go out much, I am so afraid of tarantulas and snakes, you know. Tombstone is so awful dull isn't it?"

"Oh, yes, it must seem so to you, after all the gay times of a ranch in the mountains."

"Gee! I wasn't out of the house hardly while I was there. We went to bed with the chickens and got up with the flies. Flies do get up so early, and they won't let one sleep. Is there anything in the Tombstone market to eat; I'm just starved for fresh vegetables. Didn't have a thing of that kind, and actually no milk, on a cattle ranch too. I must see what I can find to eat, so good morning."

The foregoing conversation having been heard between two of our ladies was an inducement to find out the sentiments of others who had had a trip, so one that returned from California was sought and interviewed—

"So glad, Mrs. K., to see you have returned; been having a lovely time, of course?"

"Indeed I have for two months, can't begin to tell you all the good time that I had."

"No doubt, went to the theatre quite often, did?"

"No; I didn't get out much, the children took up my time so, and nearly all my friends were away from home on their summer trips, and of course I couldn't go out alone."

"Lively in California now?"

"Well I should say so; everybody wild about land, buying and selling."

"Does everybody sell?"

"Oh, yes, nobody buys to keep; they only buy to sell again."

"Where do the improvements come in?"

"Oh, they will come after awhile, but everybody wants to sell now and make money."

"How much will the last man make who has no one to sell to?"

"Nobody expects to be the last man, you know; I invested a little myself, hope I will make something, enough to pay my expenses anyhow, such an expensive trip."

"I thought California was such a cheap place to live?"

"It is, of course, much cheaper than Tombstone; but I do spend so much when I go there; I don't understand it."

"But then it would have cost so much more to live here, that it makes up for the expense of your trip."

"Oh, no, but then I had to have a change, you know, and it would have really benefited me, if it wasn't for that terrible hot dusty ride across the desert. The thermometer was 124 degrees in the cars the day I came home. But then I had my trip, you know."

We leave our readers to count up the benefits derived from either one of the outings described in these conversations, while we mentally turn to those most deluded of all tourists, the "campers-out."

Killed while Resisting Arrest.

The Phenix Arizona of the 2d instant says Sheriff Halbert to-day received the following dispatch from Globe:

Marion Bagley resisted arrest and was killed. Under Sheriff Benbrook slightly wounded. E. E. HODGSON, Sheriff.

In explanation of the above dispatch the reporter has been informed that the Sheriff of Gila county was notified a few days since to arrest Bagley on a charge of horse stealing, as it was pretty well established that he had stolen an animal from H. R. Patrick. The sequel is told in the telegram. Marion Bagley was about 28 years of age, and his father and other relatives live at Mesa City. For several years past he has been suspected of being connected with a gang of horse thieves, and has been rapidly going from bad to worse until now that the end is announced.

An EPITAPH reporter recently visited Tempe, and found evidences of energy and improvement which led him to believe that Phenix had a formidable rival at her very doors. While the Phenicians were quarreling among themselves, the Tempeites were peaceably building warehouses, stores and residences, and with the completion of the new hotel to be erected this fall, will be prepared to welcome and handsomely entertain all the home-seekers who may see fit to visit them. Phenix must look well to its laurels, or Tempe will soon strip them from her brow, for the former enjoys no advantage in the way of climate, fertile land and location which the latter does not possess. However, the valley of the Salt is a magnificent domain and can well sustain two thriving cities.

Macneal, Moore & Co., are removing their large stock of goods to the building formerly occupied by Bothin & Co., on Allen street, below Third. The new rooms being larger will better accommodate the increasing business of this enterprising firm.

Wilcox Warblers.

Mr. Thomas Chatterman has bought the interest of his partner, Mr. Hunter, in the cattle heretofore owned by them jointly.

Messrs. Lawrence and Vandervort, typographical tourists, hailing from Tombstone and bound-east, passed through Wilcox this week.

Married—Todd-O'Brien—At the residence of the bride's parents, in Sulphur Spring valley, by D. N. Hunsaker, J. P., Geo. W. Todd and Nellie O'Brien, both of Sulphur Spring valley.

The house of Mart Moore, six miles from Wilcox, was totally destroyed by fire on Sunday morning last. All of the furniture, etc., was burned with the exception of an organ, which was taken from the burning building by a Mexican, who had charge of the place during the absence of Mr. Moore and family. The origin of the fire is not known. Mr. Moore and family returned to the place the early part of the week from the Hot Springs, only to find their home reduced to ashes.

Sudden Death.

Dr. Flint's Heart Remedy will prolong life by preventing those sudden deaths from heart disease which bring untold grief to families, often plunging them into poverty, because of the untimely disease of the bread-winner. At druggists, $1.50. Descriptive treatise with each bottle, or address J. J. Mack & Co., San Francisco.

Terrible Pains.

D. R. FLINT'S HEART REMEDY banishes sick headache, and will prevent the return of this most terrible of pains if taken when the warning symptoms give notice of the recurrence of an attack. At Druggists, $1.50. Descriptive treatise with each bottle, or address J. J. Mack & Co., San Francisco.

The Latest and Greatest Discovery.

Dr. J. De Pratt's Hamburg Figs—a crystallized fruit cathartic. A boon to every household. A most delicious laxative or purgative, prepared from fruits and vegetables. So perfectly harmless that they may be administered with entire safety to an infant. So efficacious to adults that a single dose will prove their value, and so elegant a preparation that it needs only to be presented to the public to become a necessity in every household throughout the land. For liver complaints, habitual constipation, indigestion, dyspepsia, and piles, they are a specific. To travelers by sea and land they will be found invaluable; they are positively unfailing in their action, and this is the only medicine ever offered to the public that is acceptable to the taste, and so pleasant that children will eat the figs as eagerly as candy. For sale by every druggist throughout the world. Price 25 cents a box. J. J. Mack & Co., Prop's., 9 and 11 Front street, San Francisco, Cal.
